HI-HO! COME TO THE FAIR!

5th Annual Community Fair May 30th

Saturday, May 30th is the BIG day of fun and frolic for all residents of Griesbach, visitors from Namao and surrounding communities, and especially for boys and girls.

The Community Fair again will be sponsored by the Griesbach Association and is the most complex and ambitious undertaking for the whole year.

The Griesbach Association sponsors many activities in the community, such as: Scouts and Cubs, Guides and Brownies, baseball, hockey, the community library, Christmas Decorating Contest, Grounds Beautifying Contest, School Book Rental Plan, Junior Pedal Pushers, play grounds, skating rink, bingos, movies, band concerts, rifle shooting, swap shop, Teen Town, and archery, to name a few, all indicating a healthy, civic-minded community.

And so on May 30th a carnival atmosphere will take over Griesbach with all the spectacular rides, games of skill and chance, a complete midway offering the usual hot-dogs, cotton candy, pop, contests, prizes, dog show, band concert, and raffle draw.

Kicking off at 11:00 in the morning with a giant street parade, the fair continues all day ending with fireworks at dusk and street dancing.

Plan to come out and attend the Fair.

MONTHLY DUES 50c

As a result of a "letter to the editor" the matter of "delinquent residents" not paying their 50c monthly assessment was investigated, and it was found that for the period 1 Oct., 63 to 31 Mar., 64 only 63% of the residents of Griesbach contributed. In other words, over one-third (37%) lacked community spirit in not paying a mere token assessment of 50c per month. This would seem to be a deplorable attitude on the part of "delinquent residents".

The past record of the Griesbach Association merits the support of every resident of Griesbach.

The amenities provided in this community and the opportunities afforded youngsters to participate in the many organized activities are far in excess of those provided in other Edmonton communities, and/or any comparable community across Canada.

The 50c per month voluntary payment provides a basis for planning. The money collected will be spent in the best interests of the community to support projects requested by the residents of Griesbach.

The Griesbach Association will only flourish if ALL residents participate with voluntary contributions and with their time. Remember, you will only get out of your stay in the Griesbach community in direct proportion to the effort you expend in making it a good community.

Surely the assurance of a properly supervised community is worthy of such a token assessment.

Appointed to Editorial Staff

The addition of two new members to the Editorial Staff of the Griesbach Bugle was announced last month with the appointment of a new Assistant Editor and a Circulation Manager.

WO 2 J. A. Erskine, employed at 17 Regional Ordnance Depot, has been named to the post of Assistant Editor. He is also unit news representative of 17 ROD and has long been active in the field of journalism. In assuming his new appointment, he replaces Sgt. R. M. Sheppard who has been named to the newly created appointment of Managing Editor.

One other post remains vacant, that of Social Editor, and it is hoped a volunteer can be announced to this appointment in the near future.

Canvas For The Griesbach Cancer Society

Residents in Griesbach were canvassed on Wednesday, April 15th, a cold and windy night, by members of the Catholic Women's Auxiliary and members of St. John's Chapel Women's Auxiliary. The pleasing result was that $320.00 was collected for this great cause.

We would like to thank the hard working canvassers.

Clean-Up and Tidy-Up — Win a Prize

This is the month for tidying-up the lawns and preparing the gardens for those wonderful lazy, hazy days of summer, and the week of May 18 to 23 will see the Annual Spring Clean Up Campaign.

Again the Griesbach Council has announced that a Grounds Beautifying Contest will be held during the months of June, July and August, and prizes will be offered for the best well-cared-for and tidy lots. This is an incentive for all "green thumbs" to spend just a few extra hours this year in beautifying their lots, and trying for one of the monthly prizes.

Immediately the thought occurs to KEEP OFF other people's lawns. Not only children and dogs become destructive to lawns and gardens, but too often indifferent adults and teenagers lack community spirit, and are seen trespassing on a well kept lawn. Parents of children, and dog owners, should take special heed to make sure their children do not play on lawns, and that their dog is kept on a leash and not allowed to run loose and foul somebody else's lawn.

Let's keep Griesbach beautiful.

All Dogs To Be Registered

All dogs in Griesbach must be registered, and each dog kept on a leash and controlled while outdoors.

Registration tags issued in 1963 in Griesbach are still effective, however, any unregistered dogs can now be registered at the Camp Office located in Headquarters Western Command, building J-3.

Too many dogs are running loose, fouling and damaging lawns, barking and creating a disturbance in Griesbach, therefore, any complaints in this regard by residents should be made in writing to the Camp Commandant, Headquarters Western Command, showing all pertinent information.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters to the editor must bear the writer's name, address, and if possible, telephone number. If requested, a pen-name will be used. The editor reserves the right to edit or condense all letters. Unsigned letters will not be considered for publication.

Dear Sir:

The PPCLI Jubilee Wives' Club would like to express their gratitude to the residents of Griesbach who have contributed so much towards making our Jubilee Memorial a success. The construction of our Memorial Archway is expected to begin sometime in May.

It was felt after all the hard work put in by the ladies of the Club, we should perhaps plan a pleasurable afternoon's visit to the Regimental Museum with tea served in the PT Lounge. Any members wishing more information, please attend the next General Meeting, May 4th, where a list of names will be taken. The forthcoming plans to celebrate the 50th Anniversary are becoming a reality as the time slips by and we hope that our members will participate and enjoy these occasions.

Executive Committee.

Dear Sir:

I am amazed and disappointed to find that some residents of Griesbach refuse to pay the fifty-cents contribution for the Griesbach Association.

My teenage son was telling me that some of his chums whose parents refuse to contribute the $3.00 fee (fifty-cents per month for a six months period) and obtain a Griesbach Association Membership Card, cannot participate in certain community events.

It is difficult to understand why parents would deny their children the privileges that are available to members, and I wonder why they lack true community spirit.

In one community where we lived, all residents were assessed $25.00 to have membership in an open-air skating rink, and every resident was a paid-up member.

In another community we were taxed $35.00 a year municipal taxes for mere essentials such as police and fire protection, street lighting, snow plowing, etc. all provided at no expense in Griesbach.

Perhaps if you would publish this letter, it may encourage a delinquent resident to pay up.

A Parent.

Editor, Griesbach Bugle.

Dear Sir:

Every Province, City, Town, Village, Hamlet and Community is busy planning a Centennial project.

For Griesbach, I suggest a Centennial Community Swimming Pool. Community sponsored, community constructed and community operated.

A Fish out of Water.

The Library Corner

The Griesbach Community Library now holds or has on order all current best sellers. A few of these are:

The Spy Who Came in from the Cold

WITH FIRST TO CYPRUS

Cpl. F. G. Posendorf, Public Relations Photographer from Headquarters Western Command, was the first and only resident of Griesbach to accompany the first contingent of Canadians to the UN commitment in Cyprus.

Their aircraft, a Yukon, carried a group of fifty soldiers together with four jeeps and trailers to their destination in twenty-four hours out of Quebec City. Travelling time included a refueling stop at Marville, France.

First assignment two days after arrival was a familiarization patrol of the area in a vehicle bedecked with UN flags. This task provided their first mountain view of the Mediterranean "as if it were painted, with its coastal villages of pastel coloured houses."

Cpl. Posendorf has been posted to Cyprus as Cinema Photographer for Public Relations. His wife and two children reside in Griesbach.

ARMY SURVEYORS CHART CANADA'S NORTHLAND

Sgt. Roy Hunter, left, of Sault Ste. Marie, and Sgt. Eugene Tanner of Little Britain, Ont., from the Army Survey Establishment in Ottawa, are members of the mapping party heading for Canada's north country this summer. Included in their equipment is this tellurometer, a device which measures distance electronically.

Teen-Centre Officially Opened

A large turn-out of parents and teen-agers attended the opening ceremonies of the Teen-Centre and Maple Leaf Services Sundries Shop on April 5th, 1964, as guests of the MLS.

Major R. R. Buckley acted as Master of Ceremonies, and Brigadier G. C. Leech officially declared the Teen-Centre open.

Several months ago, the Griesbach Council delegated a special committee headed by Major D. K. Tucker, to plan and co-ordinate the teen-age group, and now with the new facilities open, the organization of the Teen Club has been achieved and a much needed service is provided.

The teens have their own club rules which must be strictly observed. Admittance to the Teen-Centre is by membership card only, using a separate entrance apart from the main entrance for the MLS Sundries Shop patrons.

The modernly equipped MLS Snack Bar is mid-way between the Teen-Centre Club Room and the Sundries Shop, and with separate counters, adequately serves both the teen-agers and the Sundries Shop patrons.

Following the opening ceremonies, Mr. E. H. Stutchbury, Manager of the MLS, invited the guests to tour and inspect the new spacious facilities, and later refreshments were served.

EDITORIAL SHUFFLE PROMISES BETTER BUGLE

A conference of the Editorial Staff and Unit News Representatives for the Griesbach Bugle held last month at Command Headquarters, the first of its kind, promises to bear fruit by the interest expressed by delegates in attendance.

In his opening remarks to the assembled newsmen, Major General J. M. Rockingham, Editor-in-Chief of the Bugle, expressed his appreciation of the outstanding job done by news representatives as a spare time job and his gratitude for the work they put into it. He stated that a contributing factor to the high standards set by the Bugle was the solicitation of advertising from only the most reputable business organizations as evidenced by interest displayed by the Better Business Bureau of Edmonton.

PUBLISHER COMMENTS, "SECOND TO NONE"

Mr. V. H. Kupchenko of Alberta Printing Co., in attendance at the meeting as a technical representative, enlightened the group with "An outsiders Point of View" of the Bugle. A publisher of long standing, he felt qualified to judge the Bugle as "Second to none in the Edmonton area," and asked news representatives to "emphasize your pride in the Service".

INCREASE EDITORIAL STAFF

In the past, the limited number of staff employed in the production of the paper has made its publication quite difficult. Reorganization now implemented will not only provide additional help in preparation and printing, but will ensure a higher standard of reading material.

The editorial staff now consists of the Editor-in-Chief, Editor, Managing Editor, Assistant Editor, Sports Editor, Advertising Manager, Circulation Manager and a Social Editor. Of these, the post of Managing Editor, Circulation Manager and Social Editor (as yet unfilled) have been added to the former staff. The services of a cartoonist have also been obtained and through his generosity it is hoped to cater to the lighter side of community life.

Closing remarks of Lt. L. McLeod, Editor of the Bugle, promised additional improvements in time to come, together with future meetings at which interested participants can contribute in keeping the Bugle "a first class paper".

"Itching' To Get Hitched"

Members of the St. John's Senior Group joined ranks with other youth groups from St. Faith's and St. Mark's Anglican Churches in presenting three one-act skits on the 10th, 11th and 12th of April at each other's home stations.

The Griesbach troupe enacted a hilarious comedy of the hill-billy variety entitled "Itchin' To Get Hitched." The plot involved a fifteen year old girl who was running out of patience because she was not yet married.

After a series of amusing incidents, "Perly-Mae" was finally hitched to an elusive youth of the hills called "Hank". The wedding was typically backwoods style complete with Paw's shotgun and an obliging soul named "Preacher Smith".

The play was enjoyed by responsive audiences at the Edmonton churches and No. 1 School here in Griesbach. While none of the artists were nominated for Oscars, the entire cast performed in a very competent manner and fully deserved the applause they received.

The Cast

Maw Hap Stutt
Paw Jack Hamilton
Lizzie Daphne Milsom
Perly Mae Coral Anne Wray
Hank Jay Anderson
Clem David Anderson
Preacher Carol Erskine
Uncle Fud Mike Johnson
Boyd Van Aggelan, Master of Ceremonies, and Ron Faulkner, food convenor, assisted in making the effort a success.

N.D.E.A. TO MEET

The National Defence Employees Association will hold its next meeting on May 12th, in the Corporals' Lounge at 4:30 p.m.

A report will be given on the recent Annual Provincial Meeting held in Ded Deer. Everybody Welcome!

Griesbach Council Briefs

The regular monthly meeting of the Griesbach Community Council was held 20 Apr., 64 in the conference room at HQ Western Command.

The Recreation Committee advised that three summer ball leagues will be operating this year. A girls' league will be included.

The feasibility of organizing a summer sports programme during July and August was discussed. In general two programmes of one month each were visualized. This will be investigated further.

The High School book rental system will be taken over by Mrs. Figg.

Council was advised of a problem regarding accommodation for Guide, Scout and Cub activities. While these could be accommodated in the two school auditoriums, little time will be left for other activities normally taking place in the auditoriums. An attempt will be made to solve this problem.

Disposal of a number of GP and Butler huts has been initiated by Nat. Def. HQ. Council will attempt to obtain a number of these for use by various activities within the community. These will not be available for use before the fall.

A suggestion that the skating rink be moved to a location close to the library and Teen Centre is under consideration.

An attempt to obtain use of the Kingsway or Namoo swimming pools has met with little success. These pools are very busy, particularly during July - September.

Arrangements for the Griesbach Fair are underway. This is scheduled for 30 May and a committee has been formed to handle the fair.

Approval has been given for a Grounds Beautification Contest. This has been an annual affair in Griesbach for several years.

As was done last year, arrangements will be made to obtain supervisors for the wading pools. An ad in this regard appears elsewhere in this issue.

The Pedal Pushers Club has always been operated by the C. Pro. C. Due to shortage of personnel, volunteers will be required to assist. Contact Sgt. Wilson at C. Pro. C. Det. if you are willing. Male or female assistants accepted.

Open-air concerts by the PPCLI Band will again be arranged. These performances will be advertised when firm dates are set.

Girls' Gym classes have been attended by 15 - 20 girls. These will continue until 15 May.

It has been suggested more equipment be added to some of the playgrounds in the area. This will be investigated. Some of the equipment in the Brant Place playground is now being repaired.

ST. JOHN'S CHAPEL SUNDAY SCHOOL

At present we have 457 children enrolled in our Sunday School. We have several young teachers who are doing an excellent job, however there are five older classes (especially the 9, 10, 11 and 12 year-olds) who need adult teachers. It would be appreciated if any one interested in teaching Sunday School would contact Capt. Wray, the Sunday School Superintendent, at Local 431 or Padre Clarke, the Sunday School Chaplain, at Local 533.

ST. JOHN'S CHAPEL WOMEN'S AUXILIARY

During the past month we have had two regular meetings of the W.A. at which various business matters have been discussed.

We had a rather different and very pleasant entertainment to end the meeting on March 24th when Carol Hutchison and Sylvia Shepherd of a Hootenay Group called "The Offbeats" entertained us with a variety of songs.

On Saturday, April 11th, members of the W.A. worked as canvassers for Daffodil Day. Mrs. Young, the President, convened this group.

Wednesday, May 6th, will be Fritz night in camp in aid of the Winifred Stewart School for Retarded Children. Many W.A. members together with other ladies will be calling on camp residents for a donation to this very worthy cause. Please help them.

Once again we offer a very sincere invitation to all protestant women to attend the regular meeting of St. John's W.A. held at 8:00 p.m. on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month — the Chapel Conference room.

THE GIFT OF SONG

While listening to the lovely voices of soloists in choirs each Sunday, I think sadly of how our sense of values has changed.

Popular singers can command fantastic fees. Yet Sunday after Sunday faithful members of church choirs raise their gift of song in praise, thus giving true pleasure to those who hear them.

Though they will never have mobs of screaming fans, they give generously of their time and voices, their only reward being in the pleasure they give to others. — Mrs. H. A. Dunfermline.

Alberta Signal Squadron News

by Sgt. M. R. Lynn

Alberta Signal Squadron under the command of Major R. R. Ulrich has added another milestone for the Royal Canadian Signals by opening the Canadian Army Signal Station at Penhold on Saturday April 4th. The accomplishment contributes toward an objective of eventual over-all modernization of the present signal system as well as ensuring adequate communications for any national emergency.

The move leaves only a small segment of radio in Edmonton where once the Headquarters for the NWT and Y Radio System was located. Very soon this radio section will disappear and with it, all evidence of the system which served Canada's vast north-land beginning in 1923. A note of nostalgia hung in the air for most of the technical staff as they recalled similar projects under less ideal conditions some 20 or more years ago down North. Captain G. R. Ingram from Command Signals can relate a story surrounding the building of a new station at Yellowknife during 1938. Lieutenant R. J. Routledge leans not toward pusillanimity and had started annual leave four days prior to the official opening. He will begin his retirement leave sometime during May after 25 years service. Sergeant Major A. T. G. Elwell on the other hand carries on with a furrowed brow in his capacity as foreman of Signals. Sergeants W. T. Bremner, G. K. L. Halvorsen and F. M. Martel remain thoroughly engrossed in the stations activities following the official opening by tidying up loose ends toward activation of the final stage.

H.Q. R.C.E. News

Lieut.-Col. J. W. Bailey, CD, of Edmonton, recently arrived from Ottawa to fill the appointment of Command Engineer Officer at Headquarters Western Command to replace Lieut.-Col. D. M. C. Saunders, CD, who was promoted to Colonel last month and appointed Director of Works at Army Headquarters, Ottawa. Lieut. Col. Bailey was commissioned in the RCE in 1941. He served in Britain and Northwest Europe during the war. From 1960 to 1961 he was attached to the Emergency Measures Organization. Prior to his posting to Edmonton, he was Deputy Director of Works at Army Headquarters.

Western Command Fish and Game

The April meeting of the Western Command Fish and Game Association was held in the 13 Works Coy RCE canteen on April 15th. Approximately 25 members were present.

Highlight of the meeting was the presentation of a Life Membership to Capt. F. G. (Fred) Daniels, retiring secretary. This is in recognition of his long and devoted service to the association. Although now on civvy street, it is hoped he will be able to show up for meetings and functions.

Reports were tabled by the hunting and fishing committees, including some interesting statistics on the big game take last hunting season. A pickerel derby will be arranged when the pickerel run starts.

Elected to the executive were:

Maj. J. W. F. (Frank) Battershill as vice-president and Sgt. R. F. (Bob) Patterson as secretary. Sgt. C. G. (Cliff) Thomas was elected as a member of the hunting committee. Good luck, boys!

A draw held for a Mitchell reel and Shakespeare rod was won by Capt. R. W. (Bob) Allen — 13 Wks Coy RCE. Door prize of a tackle box was won by Major W. J. (Jack) Lott.

The formation of a senior Rifle and Pistol type of club was discussed. As complete details were not available, this was set over until the next meeting.

Two excellent films were shown, one on wild life and one on survival in the bush. It is hoped similar films will be available for future meetings.

NEXT MEETING — WEDNESDAY, MAY 13. ALL WELCOME.

Bloody but Unbowed

While former Western Command boxers are winning BAOR and British Army honours in Europe, the smallest Command team entry in the Army Championships since 1956 is back from Camp Gagetown saying, "No excuses, but we'll be back."

The Army Championships were excellently run in Camp Gagetown by 1st BN The Black Watch. Most bouts were an example of what good Army boxing should be. Eastern Command won the Championship by one point after a sensational last bout disqualification of both Open Heavyweight boxers. The final standings were:

BUSINESS GIRLS CURLING

The Griesbach Business Girls' Curling Club wound up another curling season with a busy last-week schedule of three final games, a wind-up meeting, a wind-up party and the presentation of prizes. Elected to assume the roles of President and Vice-President for next year were Nelda Hodgkinson and Kathy Mott, respectively. Congratulations to both.

Following the final game on 10 April, prizes were presented at the Curling Club. Individual trophies were presented to the Joyce Smith rink, with Alice Winters at third, Pat Donhoustet as second and Ruth Forrester at lead, for winning the regular league championship. The Club Championship round-robin was won by the undefeated Kathy Mott rink, with Adele Slecicka at third, Pat Ripplinger at second and Muriel Smith (sparing for Pat Ursulak) at lead. On hand to present the Killarney Drug Trophy and miniatures was Mrs. Watt from Killarney Drugs. Congratulations to the two championship rinks.

In addition to the trophies, club prizes were presented in order of merit to rinks skipped by Kathy Mott, Phyllis Charles, Liz White, Jan Patterson, Adelaide Nesbitt, Olive Bruens, Joyce Smith and Nelda Hodgkinson, respectively.

Members of the Business Girls' league extend a hearty thank-you to Mr. Lucas, Killarney Drugs, Sgt. Thurn, and the many lady spares for their various contributions and assistance in making our 1963-64 league successful.

Shown being presented by Mrs. Watt, with the Killarney Drug Trophy for Griesbach Business Girls' Club Championship are: skip, Kathy Mott; third, Adele Slecicka and second, Pat Ripplinger. (Pat Ursulak absent).

Members of the Griesbach Business Girls' League Championship Rink are Ruth Forrester, lead; Pat Donhoer, second; Alice Winters, third; Joyce Smith, skip.

Western Command	27
Quebec Command	22

A brief comment on performance of outstanding Western Command boxers is as follows:

Cpl. Harvey Reti of PPCLI Depot

Boxed brilliantly and showed the audience what amateur boxing really is. He defeated two tough RCR opponents in Moore and Martin to win yet again the Best Boxer Open Award and the Light Welter Championship.

Rfn. Reg Fortin of 2 QOR of C

Battled ruggedly through to win the Light Middle Novice Championship in a crowd-thrilling, stand-up final.

Pte. Marcel Greyeyes of 2 PPCLI

This promising novice ably demonstrated that he was ready for the open ranks in his boxing at this Championship. In his first bout he was devastating, cool, balanced and quick as a cobra. In his finals he was deadly but too eager, a fault he could afford as a novice but cannot now as an open boxer.

No Western Command boxer need hide his head after Camp Gagetown; the same standard but with a full team would have told a different story. So:

"No excuses, but they will be back."

Hunter Training Program Draws Enthusiastic Response

The Alberta Government is pioneering a new approach to increasing the safety and enjoyment for outdoor lovers and rural residents with the opening of its first Hunter Training Course. Sponsored by the Fish and Wildlife Division of the Department of Lands and Forests, the course has been organized in response to demand from various organizations concerned with safe and enjoyable hunting and fishing in the province.

Conceived as a co-operative self-help program, the course will be given first to a number of instructors from various organizations. On graduation these people will teach their own members. Examinations will be administered by the Fish and Wildlife Division, and those successful will receive a badge and a hunter training manual which they may use as a ready reference. The manual contains summaries of such subjects as game laws and regulations, wildlife identification, firearm safety, first aid, survival, and even a few words of advice for the wives of hunting enthusiasts. This manual is one of the first of its type to be produced by a government body in Canada and because of limited supply it is available only to successful graduates of the course.

Any recognized club or organization may apply to have some of its members trained as instructors, and applications will be processed.

Pedal Pushers Club Organized

The Canadian Provost Corps, with the assistance of Griesbach residents, is again prepared to sponsor the pedal pushers club at Griesbach Barracks this year. The aim of the club is to promote care and responsibility required with regards to good traffic habits.

It is intended to hold short safety lessons in the Curling Rink and to practice skilled riding, through obstacles, on the RCEME parking lot on 104th Street.

The following is a proposed timetable, with practices every evening from 6:00 to about 7:30 Monday to Friday and 10:00 to 11:30 on Saturday mornings:

Grades 1 & 2 — Wednesdays and Saturdays

May 6, 9, 13, 16, 20, 23, & 30.

Grades 3 & 4 — Mondays and Thursdays

May 4, 7, 11, 14, 18, 21 & 28.

Grades 5 & 6 — Tuesdays and Friday

May 5, 8, 12, 15, 19, 22, 26 and 29.

Should these dates conflict with the child's other activities, i.e.:

17 ROD Bowling Tournament Won By The Marvels

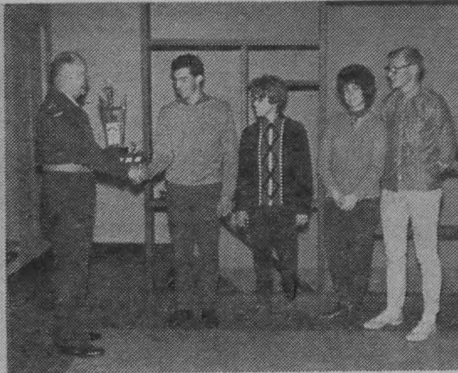

The Marvels, led by S/Sgt. Jim Grimstead, who is also an expert on the golf links and in the curling rink, eked out a narrow 11-pin victory over the runner-up Head Pins captained by WO 2 Tommy MacDonald, in a roll-off held at the Odeon Bowl in April to decide the 17 ROD Bowling Championship.

Other members of the winning team were: Mr. L. Brown, Miss S. MacDonald, Pte. S. Imbery and Mr. J. Dahlgren.

Cpl. C. Laliberte rolled an impressive 737 triple and Pte. Osborne scattered the pins for a 351

Brigadier G. C. Leech, having just presented the Griesbach Association Curling Trophy to the skip and miniatures to the Teen Curling Champions, poses with the winners. L to R: Ken Digweed (skip, Heather Mills, Charlene Digweed and Niki Cote.

Brigadier Leech presents the Northwest Utilities Trophy to Rick Rollins, skip of the runner-up team. The other members of the team are: Karen Kearney, Nancy Lee and Dave Wiggins.

First and second place winners of the Teen Curling League are seen with Colonel and Mrs. Kearney, their sponsors in the year's activities.

Cubs, Brownies, etc., they may attend any other night of their choosing.

A rodeo will be held for all Griesbach Pedal Pushers on May 31st. Trophies purchased through the Griesbach Association will be awarded to the best riders in each class group.

A team will be selected from Grades 4, 5 and 6 riders to represent Griesbach in the decorated rider group at the City of Edmonton Parade on June 14th. Also for competition in the City of Edmonton Finals sometime in June. (Date to be notified).

REGISTRATIONS:

All members will be registered at the Curling Rink, 6:30 p.m., on Friday, May 1st. A safety check, by a mechanic, of all bicycles has been arranged at this time. Please don't disappoint your child by forgetting the registration certificate and fee of 50c to cover the cost of materials.

Any volunteer residents who wish to assist in any way, are asked to contact S/Sgt. Wilson at Local 288.

THE BICYCLE RIDER OF TODAY WILL BE THE DRIVER OF TOMORROW.

NATIONAL WILDLIFE WEEK

by Captain W. R. Parker, CD., President, Western Command Fish and Game Association

Although one week in the year is set aside as National Wildlife Week, our thoughts and actions concerning our fish and game should be with us all year round. The time is here, start getting the idea over to the rising generation that wealth, economic security and greatness cannot be measured by the extent of gold and silver alone. These are merely media of exchange. The real wealth, in addition to the character, quality and health of our people, is the abundance and variety of our natural resources which include our fish and game.

The proper control and management of our wildlife resources is known as "CONSERVATION". This important word is the motto of the Western Command Fish and Game Association. Whether one is an active hunter or fisherman or simply a camper or lover of the outdoors, it behooves all to devote more attention to conservation.

Any bricklayer knows he must consult his level and plumb line to see where his wall is going. Any navigator must take his bearings as he moves about. Businessmen should be concerned with their position and the future. Likewise, in any nation whose welfare rests heavily on natural resources, much more thought must be given to the conservation of our natural resources.

It is the duty of our educational system to make all citizens better acquainted with the facts of conservation and to train competent people as specialists in resources. Also business, industry and finance must, for their own good, make it possible for such specialists to function. To quote from Milton in Paradise Lost, "Accuse not Nature! She has done her part; do thou but thine!"

ICE FISHING DERBY

A whitefish derby, organized by the Western Command Fish and Game Association, was held at Lake Wabamun on Easter Monday, 30 Mar. 64.

With ideal weather the derby was well attended with several members bringing their whole family. The youngsters outfished the adults, with Jin Patterson catching the most, and Nicki Lou King the largest.

It is notable that the fathers of both these youngsters were "skunked", although Bob Patterson claims he caught one that fell back in the hole. Yeah?

Fortunately there were prizes for adults. Sgt. McMann took the prize for the most, and Capt. Parker for the largest.

This derby was so successful, plans are being made for more in the future.

SORRY! AN OMISSION!

In our last issue, coverage was given to National Wildlife Week, but due to technical and production difficulties, a portion of the feature article on Wildlife Week was omitted. We apologize to our readers and to the author, Capt. W. R. Parker, for this omission, and have reprinted the article in its entirety.

We would like to add that Wildlife Week was first decreed by Parliament in 1947 and the theme this year is "Canadians Need Outdoor Recreation: Act now to provide for the future." It was selected by the Canadian Wildlife Federation, a fledgling organization rooted in 1,500 sportsmen's clubs, to reflect the most crucial problem facing outdoors enthusiasts across the nation.

Wildlife Week is set each year for the week including April 10, the birthday of the late Jack Miner, the naturalist and author whose bird sanctuary at Kingsville, Ont., became world famous.

Community Fair Set for May 30

"In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of" Griesbach's annual Community Fair, of course!

For the young in years and the young in heart, May 30th this year will be a day to remember.

Had the bard who penned those immortal lines been a member of our community, he would have had ample opportunity to exercise his talents in eulogizing the time and effort volunteered annually by Griesbach residents in making each Fair bigger and better than the one before.

Carnival rides for the daring, midway delights for the children, games of skill and chance for all ages, candy floss, hot dogs, hamburgers and soft drinks — and finally a giant fireworks display! What more could one ask?

But more there is. Winners of last year's valuable raffle prizes which included a 12-foot aluminum boat complete with motor, a typewriter, radios, cameras, a barbeque and camping equipment and more to a total of 16, will agree that the raffle ticket just isn't enough. Buy a book and gain an extra ticket to increase your chances.

And for those who need that extra few dollars for a planned summer vacation, a cash alternative is being offered for the first time this year as an added incentive.

Again this year, competitions with cash prizes will test the skill and ingenuity of our younger residents, and decorated bicycles, tricycles and baby carriages will add colour to the opening parade.

The Grand Parade will be led by the Band of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry beginning at 11:00 o'clock, march through the old and new PMQ areas and arrive at the Fair site in time for the official opening at 12:00 o'clock.

From then until the fireworks display at 9:00 o'clock in the evening — which will be followed by a street dance sponsored by the Griesbach Young People's Association members of our community and their friends, neighbours from Namas and surrounding districts are invited to join in the festivities.

Sponsored by the Griesbach Association, this annual Fair is designed to provide enjoyment for the residents of our community and to assist financially the many projects undertaken by the Association. Everyone benefits, so everyone is encouraged to support the Fair to the fullest by coming and bringing your friends.

SUFFERERS OF GRAB GRASS:

GET HEP TO 3 CONTROLS

Many jokes have been made over the years about people who have crab grass. Yet, if you have a lawn and are proud of the way it looks, you have every right to hate the sight of it.

This weedy grass spoils the uniformity of a lawn. Clumps, of it can physically weaken lawns by robbing them of space, moisture and nutrients.

There are three basic ways of controlling crab grass. They are digging or pulling out each plant, proper lawn care and a preventive program using chemical controls.

THREE TYPES

There are three types of crab grass — smooth, hairy and silver. All three look similar and are annuals. They develop from seeds to mature plants that flower and seed usually by the late part of August.

In the spring, however, seedling crab grass sprouts from the soil as a small pale green plant with two leaves. The leaves are oval, broad at the base and taper to a point at the tip. As the develop, they become coarse and spread out.

HELP KEEP GRIESBACH BEAUTIFUL

Spring Clean-Up and Fire Prevention Campaign

MAY 18 to 23

The annual Spring Clean-Up Campaign is being observed in Griesbach during the week May 18 to 23, 1964. Although this period has been designated as Spring Clean-Up Week, activity should not be confined to one week only but rather continue throughout the month of May or longer if necessary.

The threat of fire is constant, and special efforts should be made to overcome this danger by the removal of all possible fire hazards. In this connection it is suggested that all units and personnel living in PMQs conduct a vigorous and searching program to dispose of unnecessary combustibles.

Camp has arranged for vehicles to tour the PMQ Area at various times between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. Wednesday, May 20th to collect articles for disposal. This is an excellent opportunity to dispose of all accumulated, unwanted items which the regular garbage contractor will not pick-up. Items are to be placed just inside curb at the front of PMQs and residents are requested to inform children not to disturb or remove garbage.

care program can do much to discourage crab grass from setting in.

When seeding or reseeded, use a good quality seed mixture. Fall-seeded lawns get a head start on beating crab grass into submission. It might be a good thing to remember next time you plan to seed.

Proper watering will also help check crab grass. Since permanent grass roots deep, less frequent waterings but with large amounts of water is best. Frequent small waterings aid crab grass as its roots shallow.

And, of course, proper mowing will help in the fight, too. Raise your mower to a two-inch cutting height during May and June mowing. Where permanent grass is dense, the additional shade of larger grass slows growth of crab grass seedlings.

PREVENTIVE ACTION

On the other hand, while the lawn care program approach helps maintain a good lawn, the preventive chemical approach works against crab grass, before it starts.

The chemical — called a pre-emergence herbicide — has been found to give protection against crab grass growth with as little as a single application. It will also not accumulate in the soil, thus no harmful residual build-up results.

Dacthal, the active herbicide in dozens of the nation's successful crab grass killers, for example, attacks the crab grass seed before it has a chance to germinate. It has been found that it kills nearly all crab grass in one season.

After it is applied, less frequent watering with large amounts of water will help discourage further growth.

If your lawn is heavily infested with crab grass, however, you had better plan on reseeding this fall if you use a herbicide on an infested lawn. Seed thin spots carefully and treat with a pre-emergence herbicide again next spring.

Family Re-united

Sigmund J. R. Erskine, son of WO2 J. A. Erskine, of 17 ROD, has been posted to the Alberta Area Sig Sqn on his return from the Middle East.

He and his father have been playing leap-frog since 1960 when S/M Erskine took off for the land of the Pharaohs while his son was completing recruit and trades training at London and Kingston.

In December, 1961, on his return from the Middle East, the parent was employed at 15 ROD, Lakeview, Ont., while the young recruit had already received his initial posting instructions and departed for British Columbia and a tour with the BC Sig Sqn.

The spring of 1963 found Sigmund Erskine winging his way eastward to the Mediterranean area. Two months later he learned of his father's transfer to Edmonton.

After almost four years of separation, the family will be together until a future posting once again interferes.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY

On 15 May 64, RCEME personnel throughout the world, will celebrate the 20th Anniversary of the formation of the Corps of Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers, R.C.E.M.E. was formed during World War II on 15 May, 1944. This was the date on which selected personnel from the Corps of RCOC, RCASC and RCE were first posted to the new Corps, and its organization came into being. Since then, RCEME has emerged from its crawling infancy to a present day proud, efficient and well-organized Corps, turning out repairmen who maintain and keep in first class condition, all equipment used by the Canadian Army around the world.

224 Workshop RCEME welcomes to its fold S/Sgt. Bill Hartle from the Gaza Strip. Bill, his wife and three children reside in PMQ 39. S/Sgt. W. M. Hartle assumed his duties as NCO i/c Vehicle Troop.

13 Company RCEME bade farewell to Mrs. Fran Evans who has been employed as a clerk since 17th April, 1961. Fran will be working for the Provincial Government, and those of us who have worked with her through the years, will miss her "tall" presence.

Congratulations go to Mary Crear of 224 Wksp RCEME, who became a proud grandmother on 19 February. Donnie, her grandson, as are all grandchildren with their grandmothers, will be the apple of her eye through all his years.

We are glad to have Major K. R. Joslin back with us, as he was on the Directing Staff for the Officers Promotional Exam Study Concentration March 11 to March 25 1964, in Camp Wainwright.

Now that the curling season has ended, we can discard our old brooms for clubs and irons. We look forward to a good year in golf, and those of us who play the game, should encourage others who do not, to come out and join in the fun.

Up Date Army Signals

Army Headquarters has announced a large-scale modernization of the Canadian Army Signals System.

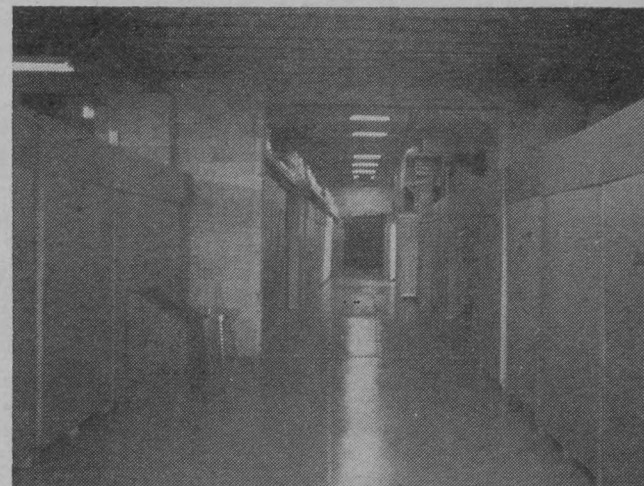

The two-fold program aims at relocating present stations for better emergency service in national survival, as well as overall improvement of the present system.

The new stations will be located with the various regional Headquarters of the Emergency Measures Organization to facilitate liaison between the Army and the civilian organization.

Six new stations are involved in the immediate plan. The first one at Camp Borden, Ont., was opened on February 29. Others at Nanaimo, B.C., Penhold, Alta., Camp Shilo, Man., Valcartier, P. Q. and Debert, N.S., are under construction and will be in operation by October.

All work on the stations, except actual building construction, is being carried out by officers and men of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals.

GOC's Annual Inspection

An annual inspection of static units in the Griesbach area will be conducted by the General Officer Commanding, Major General J. M. Rockingham, on Tuesday, May 5th.

Commanding the parade of eight units will be Lt.-Col. S. E. Hunter, Area Ordnance Officer and Commanding Officer of 17 Regional Ordnance Depot.

Second-in-command of the parade will be Major G. E. Henderson, officer commanding the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry Depot. Capt. D. M. Langley will be parade adjutant, and Garrison Sergeant Major (WO1) R. Jackson has been named parade sergeant major.

The units will parade on the square at Hamilton Gault Barracks at 10:00 o'clock on Tuesday, May 5th, after which the General Officer Commanding will carry out his inspection of the units represented on parade.

17 R.O.D. NEWS BRIEFS

By WO2 J. A. Erskine

Bob Olson, popular supervisor of the depot's procurement section, who has spent quite a number of years with us, has finally submitted to the relentless pursuit of a member of the fair sex in this Leap Year of 1964. His bride-to-be, Barbara Strong, of Red Deer, is presently studying nursing at the University of Alberta and will graduate in August. Wedding bells will toll at the Gates Memorial United Church in Red Deer on the 16th of May. Welcome to the ranks of the Benedicts, Bob, and don't take all those remarks offered by the boys too much to heart. We all wish you a long and happily married life!

Representatives from 25, 26 and 27 Central Ordnance Depots visited the area in April. Lt./Col. V. D. Mooney, who at one time held the appointment of AQMG at Headquarters Western Command, Lt./Col. R. N. Brooks, Lt./Col. I. Petrie, of the British Army and Maj. P. I. Sloane were guests of the CO at the Officers' Mess during their short stay prior to proceeding to Calgary.

Now that the curling brooms, hockey skates and all the paraphernalia used in winter sports have assumed their usual storage spots in the cellar until next fall, the sports-minded personnel of the depot are preparing for another assault on the golf links. There is much talk about "woods", "putters", "wedges" and "irons" among the would-be Palmers, Sneads and Finsterwalds. It is quite evident that this depot will be well represented in any tournament which may come up unexpectedly.

The exceptionally good turn-out at the recent bowling contest augurs well for a successful season for the 17 ROD mixed bowling league planned to resume next autumn after a year's stand-down.

Cpl. Melanson, of the ACO's staff, is attending a Clerk Accounting Group 3 course at the RCOG School in Montreal. Pte. G. B. Faulkes successfully qualified as a Storeman Group 3 last month. Pte. C. Routledge has left for Calgary on a detachment posting.

The CO extends a welcome to Sgt. W. C. Slater who has been posted here from 14 Coy. RCOG, Whitehorse. He at present is being employed in the Inspection Section.

Other newcomers to the depot, Miss Shirley MacDonald, typing pool, Mrs. Charmaine MacArthur, central registry, Mrs. M. Walker, stocktaking, Mrs. G. Pruden and Mr. D. Arndt, stock records, are well entrenched in the stream now.

Sgt. R. Reeves, Cpl. T. C. Rixon, Cpl. M. L. MacDonald and Robert Brereton are at present in Lethbridge on ordnance inspection duties and will be away for approximately two weeks.

Ssgt. Jimmy Aucoin... sometimes called O'Aucoin on St. Patrick's Day... has returned to work after a two week stay in Col. Mewburn's Hospital. The atmosphere in the depot, and especially in the Sgts' Club during coffee breaks, has regained its previous standard of frivolity which was notably absent during Jimmy's hospitalization. What's new, Jimmy?

Special congratulations are in order for Cpl. G. Gardiner who was named the most outstanding candidate at a recent Sr. NCO course at the RCOG School. Cpl. Gardiner was commended by the Commandant on his exceptional leadership qualities shown during the course.

Cliff Snider has returned from Shelbourne, Ont., where he attended his mother's funeral. His many friends extend their sympathy in his bereavement.

PROVOST NEWS

DON'T BECOME A STATISTIC

With the advent of warm weather there will be a marked increase in the amount of vehicles, bicycles and tricycles on the roadways in Camp Griesbach.

Your Provost Detachment cannot emphasize too strongly the importance of safety to both adult and child alike. The adult drivers have the great responsibility of looking out for the younger set who are carefree due to their age and they depend upon the careful, watchful driver. DON'T LET THEM DOWN!

Boys and girls the world over for some reason play on the streets. In our Camp, playgrounds are provided for your use, so please use them and we will not have the unpleasant task of investigating an accident where you could be involved.

Camp Griesbach has the enviable record of no serious injury or death from vehicle accidents for the past 6 years. With your co-operation, it is our sincere hope we will never investigate an accident involving injury or property damage. KEEP UP YOUR EXCELLENT RECORD.

13 COMPANY RCASC NEWS

(By Captain E. V. Roles)

On civvy street it's automation. Around the company the key words are integration, amalgamation and centralization with stray mentions here and there, of "golden bowlers".

The morning after the White Paper details came out, heeding the editor's advice that an insatiable curiosity is a must for unit reporters, we started the rounds of the unit to check on reactions. The boss's office was first in the list.

"What's new about integration", saith he, "why on my last posting at Rivers....." Just then the telephone rang and we missed out on a dissertation.

The boss's secretary was next. "What's so new about integration?" she asked, pointing down into the backyard of the "Sam-brooke Motel" where blue hats, white hats and khaki hats were all bobbing at 180 paces to the minute double time!

We tried the S & T office but only succeeded in stirring up reminiscences of days spent loading aircraft in the Sinai, the Congo, Pisa and Beirut; and then on to "Box Top" operations in Thule.

At the Orderly Room, we took one look at the wings on the AO's chest and decided to keep moving.

Arriving downstairs in the Supply Depot we knew we were licked. Sgt. "Doc" Dally and the boys were sweating out a C119 load of rations for HMCS Inuvik!

Conclusion: "integration" is just a new name for what's been going on in the Service Corps all along, and we all heartily recommend it to the uninitiated.

In the afternoon our curiosity revived and we wandered over to Transport to check on centralization — just in time to hear an astounding theory on how the Engineers came by all that stuff.

It seemed, according to a grizzled veteran who was here when Griesbach was being built, that the current site of the Engineer compound used to belong to a second hand equipment dealer who catered to the needs of local farmers and contractors. Having no alternate accommodation the dealer took off to Florida to think the problem out.

The next event, so the story goes, was a GOC's inspection, in anticipation of which the Works Officer ordered everything painted. You can guess the rest. Hard on the heels of the GOC's inspection came an Ordnance inspection and everything was taken to charge!

As the story ended a mechanic appeared with a worried look on his face "Hey, Bob, where do I find a check list to do a 2208 on a manure spreader". The reply was straight faced: "Power driven or horse drawn?"

On top of the list of coming events is the GOC's annual inspection of garrison units on May 5th, 1964. The highlight will be a combined parade under command of Lt.-Col. S. E. Hunter, CO of 17 ROD. A second major event of the RCASC Corps Memorial Day activities is the annual church parade and march past on May 24th, by both Militia and Regular RCASC units, to be followed by a buffet lunch for members and dependents. A prelude to this event will be an RCASC stag in Building C 8 on Friday evening, May 1st. Hopes are high that all RCASC members will come along and join the fun and games.

DIS-N-DAT

Four out of fourteen local RCASC Corporals are all smiles at having passed the pre-Sr NCO assessment tests.

It's good to see that John Bugnet and Freeman Allen, caught in the 10% civvy reduction, have found other jobs in neighbouring units. Wilfrid Radke has switched over to 17 ROD as a result of the same programme.

Cpl. "Pat" Patterson is off to UNEF and "Van" Vaness, John Stilwell and Mac Magee are brushing up on their German for autumn postings to 1 CIBG.

THE WATCHDOG BEAT

Over the period of the last six months there has been a marked increase in the number of false alarms turned in at the Fire Hall.

As small children are responsible, it would be in order if parents would counsel their children on the following:

1. Each time the Fire Dept. responds to a call it costs a considerable amount of money, and this money comes from you and I, the tax payer.

2. As speed is important in responding to a fire a danger exists to small children walking on the roads, vehicle accidents and to the firemen themselves.

3. When the Fire Dept. is at the scene of a false alarm their services may be required at a real fire and valuable time is therefore lost.

4. Any child who is found to be responsible for setting a false alarm could result in disciplinary action against the parents concerned.

We think you will all agree that if we work together these foolish and dangerous pranks will come to an end.

FM Radio for Hi-Fi Fans

The newest thing for Hi-Fi fans in radio broadcasting is FM Stereo (Multiplex), and already stations across the country are leaping forward to the improved sound reproduction over new transmitter equipment. One electronics firm in the U.S.A. reports a backlog of 32 stereo station orders. The big increase is in the West, Southwest, and Midwest. California has 36 FM stations, twice as many as any other state. Texas and Ohio are second, with 17 each. Michigan has 16, Illinois 15, New York and Pennsylvania 13.

FM stations — a prime source of music for the high fidelity hobbyists — have been going stereo at the rate of three a week, south of the border, during the past four months.

The pace may slow down, but 100 to 150 additional stereo transmitters are expected to be on the air by December 1964. As of Mar. 1, the National Association of Broadcasters counted a total of 277 FM stereo stations broadcasting.

Television Digest reports that transmitter manufacturers are getting increasing numbers of orders, both from stations now broadcasting but not in multiplex, and from stations that will go on the air in the coming months.

CFRN Radio in Edmonton has provided FM broadcasting for its listeners for several years, and was recently granted permission by the Board of Broadcast Governors to expand its operation with a 16,200 watt transmitter and incorporation of separate FM-Stereo (multiplex) programming into its daily log.

Mr. George Duffield, Production Manager of CFRN Radio, told the Griesbach Bugle that CFRN's expanded FM-Stereo service is expected to be in operation by June 1964 on the present frequency of 100.3 megacycles.

Incidentally the first FM broadcast in Canada took place in Jasper, in 1946 during a convention of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters.

CFRB in Toronto has been on the air with separate FM-Stereo broadcasts since early 1962, and CHFM Calgary started FM-Stereo in August 1962. CHNS Halifax will have FM-Stereo in September of this year.

One reason for interest in stereo broadcasting is the improvement in new transmitter equipment and the increasing number of FM-Stereo receivers. About 2.5 million stereo receivers of all kinds are estimated to be in use.

What's the difference between AM (amplitude modulation) and FM

(frequency modulation)? What is FM-Stereo Multiplex? It's all in the transmission technique. AM is the old standby and has been used since the first commercial radio stations began to broadcast back in the '20s. Not many years later FM was developed, but by this time AM stations had sprung up all over the world and most of them considered it to be impractical to convert their facilities to FM. However, television uses FM for its sound transmission.

Unfortunately, Canada lags behind other countries in the use of high fidelity FM radio.

In recent years there has been a renaissance in FM mainly because of the listeners' demands. Owners of Hi-Fi record players equipped with FM can get hi-fi radio reception played through the phono system. This is because FM is capable of transmitting higher sound frequencies — from 20 or 30 cycles to as high as 15,000 or 20,000 cycles — which is something AM (500 to 8000 cycles) can never do.

Today, ordinary FM is aging fast. The big thing is FM-Stereo Multiplex, which allows a station to broadcast simultaneously with its FM system a "scrambled" stereo signal, which "unscrambled" by the receiver. Thus the listener uses only one receiver, not two, and gets full fidelity, not half. Stereophonic sound with a sense of depth and direction, just as would be heard in a concert hall.

There are two ways to receive FM-Stereo broadcasts. It can be done either by converting a present FM set or by purchasing a new FM set equipped to receive stereo.

To convert a FM set it is necessary to have an adapter, called a stereo multiplex adapter, and two speakers. The cost of this equipment varies depending on the make and quality.

The cost of a completely new stereo receiver also varies considerably depending on the type of equipment, but dealers will be happy to demonstrate any models to customers.

Stereo will be used as a competitive tool in an already competitive market. If one FM station in a city goes stereo, others are likely to follow to keep up with the competition.

JUST ONE OF THOSE DAYS

A housewife in Griesbach, who doesn't want her name known, was busy in the basement filling the washer with dirty clothes.

The dress had on needed washing too, so she slipped out of it and tossed it in the machine.

While puttering around, she took a broom and started sweeping cobwebs out of a ceiling corner.

But the cobwebs kept getting in her hair and the only available protection was her son's football lady."

helmet — which she donned.

Then the inevitable — someone knocked on the upstairs basement door.

The only thing handy was a racoon coat, and with only that, the helmet and the broom she answered the door.

As the repairman walked past her, he gave only a brief smile.

But as he returned from the basement, he yielded to temptation and made one brief comment:

"I sure hope your team wins,

BUGLE MONTHLY RECIPES

Here's a way to soup up eggs. It comes from an English Sea Cook and I can recommend it.

Stir one can (10½ ozs.) condensed cream of mushrooms soup (DON'T ADD WATER) until smooth. Blend in slightly beaten eggs and a dash of pepper. Then melt two tablespoons of butter or margarine in a skillet. Pour in egg-soup mixture and cook over low heat, stirring gently until eggs are set. Serves six — and can be made with cream of celery, cream of chicken or vegetable soup.

CHICKEN WITH ALMONDS

Serves 4

3 tbsp. cooking (salad oil)	1 10-oz. can button mushrooms, drained
1 tsp. salt	1 cup boiling liquid (mushroom juice plus water)
2 cups diced raw chicken breast	1 tbsp. corn starch
2 tbsp. soya sauce	¼ cup cold water
1 cup fresh or frozen Frenched green beans	½ cup toasted almonds
1 cup thinly-sliced celery	Hot rice

Heat oil and salt in large heavy skillet. Add chicken pieces and cook gently until almost tender, about 3 minutes.

Add soya sauce and blend well. Add vegetables and boiling liquid, cover tightly and heat until steaming. Remove cover and cook and stir until chicken is tender and vegetables are tender crisp (Chinese style), about 5 minutes.

Add cornstarch to cold water and blend until smooth. Add to mixture gradually, stirring constantly. Cook and stir until thick and clear. Stir in almonds. Serve immediately with hot rice.

SALMON MACARONI CASSEROLE

Serves 6

1 8-oz. pkg. macaroni	3 tbsp. flour
1-lb. can Red Salmon	1 tsp. salt
¼ cup chopped onion	¼ tsp. pepper
½ cup chopped green pepper	¼ tsp. dry mustard
3 tbsp. butter	3 cups liquid salmon juice and milk
1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese

Heat oven 375 degrees. Cook macaroni and drain.

Drain salmon, saving juice, and break into good-sized pieces. Cook onion and green pepper in butter until onion is yellow. Blend in flour, salt, pepper and mustard. Remove from heat. Measure salmon juice and add enough milk to make 3 cups liquid. Add to hot mixture all at once and stir to blend.

Return to moderate heat and cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened and smooth. Add cheese and continue cooking until cheese is melted, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat and gently stir in macaroni and salmon. Pour into buttered 2-quart casserole. Bake 30 minutes.

MEAT LOAF SPECIAL

Serves 12

1 lb. ground beef	1 medium onion, chopped
1 lb. ground pork	2 tsp. salt
1½ cups ground cooked ham	¼ tsp. pepper
4 slices day-old bread	½ tsp. oregano
½ cup milk	1 tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
½ cup dry red table wine	4 hard-cooked eggs
2 eggs, slightly beaten	Dry Red table wine

Mix ground meats. Tear into crumbs and add milk and wine. Mix together so all liquid is absorbed and add to meat. Add eggs, onion, salt, pepper, oregano and Worcestershire sauce.

Mould meat mixture around hard-cooked eggs into a roll 12 inches long, working on waxed paper. Wrap in double cheese cloth which has been dampened with more wine. Twist both ends tightly and tie securely. Put in shallow baking pan and bake 1½ hours, basting often with more wine. Remove cheese cloth while hot, then cool. Slice and serve cold.

TURKISH DELIGHT

2 envelopes (2 tbsp. unflavored) gelatin	Pinch of salt
½ cup cold water	Oil of peppermint
1 cup boiling water	Green and red food coloring
2 cups sugar	Sifted icing sugar

Soak gelatin in cold water. Combine boiling water, sugar and salt, and stir until sugar is dissolved. Bring to a boil, add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Bring back to boil and simmer 20 minutes.

Remove from heat. Flavour with 2 or 3 drops oil of peppermint (you buy this at a drug store). Tint half of mixture with green and half with red food coloring. Pour green part into 9 x 5 inch loaf pan which has been rinsed with cold water. Chill quickly by setting in ice water. When set, pour red gelatin in a layer on top. Let stand at room temperature until completely set. Cut out of pan in cubes or oblongs and roll in icing sugar. (B Quaintance) WO 1

2 PPCLI Report

GENERAL

On April 25th each year the Second Battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry commemorates the Battle of Kapyong in Korea in 1951.

On April 24, 1951, the Patricia's on Hill 677 and 3rd Royal Australian Rifles on Hill 504 were guarding the Kapyong valley. They were opposed by two full brigades of enemy. After 16 hours of bitter fighting the Australians were ordered to withdraw leaving the Patricia's. The enemy launched a series of attacks over the next two days. Several times they overran Patricia positions only to be driven back. At dawn on 27 April, the main bodies of enemy withdrew.

For their actions at Kapyong, 2 PPCLI were awarded the United States Presidential Unit Citation. They became the only Canadian unit ever to be so honored. This award is the equivalent of the Distinguished Service Cross which is presented to an individual for outstanding heroism and exceptionally meritorious conduct. In Commonwealth Forces, the citation is worn below the Regimental shoulder flash. In addition a blue streamer with the word "Kapyong" is mounted on the Regimental Colors.

LOST One Siskin Aircraft

OTTAWA, April 10. — To complete an exhibit of fighter type aircraft used by the RCAF through the 1920's to the present day, the Air Force is attempting to locate one of the Siskin biplanes that were introduced into service in May, 1929.

A total of 10 Siskins were purchased by the Air Force and all but one have been accounted for. Aircraft number "A-26" was sold by War Assets in September, 1946; however, there is no record of who purchased the aircraft.

The planned exhibit is being arranged in connection with National Air Force Day, which is scheduled to take place at RCAF Station Rockcliffe, near Ottawa, on June 6th.

Other aircraft in the display will include a Hurricane, Spitfire, Vampire, Sabre, SF-100, CF-101B and a Bomarc.

To complete the display, anyone knowing the whereabouts of the Siskin that was sold in 1946, or of Siskin spares, is requested to advise the Staff Officer for Public Relations Air Defence Command RCAF Station St-Hubert, Que., or write to the Directorate of Public Relations at Air Force Headquarters in Ottawa.

News Hasn't Changed Much In 60 Years

A box, sealed in the cornerstone of the old Times Tower in New York's Times Square on Jan. 18, 1904, was opened the other day. Leading stories in the 12 newspapers in the box included: Bloody uprisings in Africa; trouble in Panama and the Far East; Brooklyn police vs. the Mafia; commuters complaining of congestion; criticism of Broadway box office practices; editorials on the danger of cigarette smoking.

What kind of day was it on Jan. 18, 1904? A day like any other day — then or now.

(Being another letter from Myrt to her best friend and former neighbour).

Dear Kit:

Instant Coffee . . . Instant Cake Mix . . . Instant Pudding . . . Instant Beer . . . and, of course INSTANT MONEY !!! You know how you make the others — but do you know how to make INSTANT MONEY ??? That's when you haven't got a bean in the old purse but you go shopping anyway. All you have to do is fish out the old credit card and say: "Charge it please."

I used to think there was really nothing wrong with this. I ran a charge account for years — mostly for that odd occasion when I would see some kid's clothes on sale and maybe wouldn't have the cash.

Then — two or three months in a row I didn't pay up the full amount on the charge. To quote Georgie, I was suffering from that common affliction — LAKKA MOOLA — you always have too much month left over at the end of your money !!!

When I got the bill I noticed that the store had taken it upon themselves to add service charges. Sometime I'll tell you all about the SERVICE you get from this particular store — but that's another story.

I decided I better look into this little matter some day — like in the next two seconds — so I got the credit manager on the phone.

It turns out that the contract contained a clause that I hadn't noticed. I meant simply that if I didn't pay up the full amount within thirty days the store could charge me 1½% per month on the balance owing (which I make to be 18% per annum). In other words, all I had to do was miss a payment and — Presto Chango — I had myself a revolving budget.

I acquainted Georgie with the facts. Just like a husband — he comes out with a wisecrack.

"Like the guy sez — you got a Revolving Budget — pay interest charges on your toothpaste."

In the meantime I got out my copy of the contract and there it was staring me in the face. The clause states beyond question that a charge account can turn into a Revolving Budget simply by letting the payment go beyond 30 days.

Just at this point in the conversation Birdie Felton dropped in. There are at least four things wrong with Birdie. She's over-dressed, overpainted, overdeveloped — and half the time she's over here. Have you ever noticed how a husband will suddenly get wordly-wise when someone like Bertie shows up? This was the signal for Georgie to go into his act. Fortunately he did know something about Revolving Budgets. We got his sixty-four dollar speech.

"Mind you," he started in; "Revolving Budgets are a good thing, but we do have to use them with caution, don't we, Myrt?" he smirked — looking straight at me.

We have a little arrangement in our family . . . we don't squabble in public but I thought to myself: "Oh buster — you're coming awfully close !!!"

"Yes," Georgie went on: "Unless you use a Revolving Budget with discrimination (he doesn't even know the meaning of the word, I thought) you will be led into impulse buying."

"I'm pretty good at impulses," Birdie interrupted; "Just what kind of an impulse did you say, Georgie dear?"

"Impulse buying," Georgie intoned; "It's where you stroll down the aisles loading up with stuff on impulse even though you haven't got dough to pay for it."

"What creates these impulses?" Birdie asked.

"Well a lot of it is sex overtones in advertising," Georgie replied. (I knew he had to get around to this subject somewhere).

"Yes and a lot of other things too," George continued; "Music-while-you-shop . . . soft lights . . . a gay care-free atmosphere . . . shelves loaded with colourful displays . . . these are the wary traps which some merchandisers set for the shopper that can be taken in on impulse — with his credit card to back him up," Georgie reminded us.

"My but George is clever" Birdie said to me, and then turned back to my dear, sweet husband: "What else is wrong with these Revolving Budgets?" she asked.

"I don't like to say there's anything wrong with them," Georgie said, "but, they are a convenience — and any time you hear the word convenience you must expect to pay something for it. Really, you know, credit was invented because most people did not have enough money to purchase large items like stoves and refrigerators . . . on a Revolving Budget you buy only the smaller items — clothing, Christmas cards, bobby pins, and, as the guy sez, toothpaste . . . and sometimes even after the toothpaste is used you still have to pay for it."

Birdie looked wonderingly at Georgie and asked if there wasn't something further he could add.

Georgie scratched his head for a minute and then explained his final point. As he says, if you're making payments on a Revolving Budget you don't have the pesos to go bargain hunting. If you're a credit card customer I guess you have to buy where your card tells you to buy.

Just so that Georgie wouldn't carry off all the honors for the day I threw in the final clincher.

"There's just one other thing about Revolving Budgets . . . they completely wreck any attempt to run your finances on a system," I commented.

"If the housekeeping money runs out before the end of the month it is only logical to start charging up on the Revolving Budget. This means you spend more than you can afford. The system takes an awful beating — and it requires about six months of skimping to recover from it."

At this point Georgie felt sure that I was going to reveal exactly how much he did give me to run the house so he beat a hasty retreat. With Georgie gone, Birdie found the company less-than-entertaining and she took off too. I must say though that I did go out to the kitchen and burn my Revolving Budget card.

Ah yes, Kit, I must tell you what happened a few days later. I went into town to do a bit of shopping. After picking out the merchandise I located a clerk to handle the transaction.

"May I have your charge-plate?" she asked innocently.

"I'm paying cash," I announced, handing her some of that dirty, old-fashioned money.

"I'll have to get the manager," she gasped.

"I've only been here six weeks and I don't know how to handle a cash sale."

Sincerely,

MYRT

WELL INFORMED

Broadcasting facilities in Canada are in part privately-owned, in part state-owned. In early 1963, excluding rebroadcasting stations, there were 299 radio and television stations in operation, three times the total of daily newspapers in the country; of these stations 240 were privately-owned, 59 state-owned. Over 96 per cent of all households are equipped with radio receivers and 87 per cent with television receivers.

Calgary Garrison Takes Trophy

Colonel F. LeP. T. Clifford, Commander Calgary Garrison (right) presents the Alberta Area Volleyball trophy for 1964 to Major Brick Brown, team captain of the Calgary Garrison minor units volleyball team. The team went on to win the Western Command title in Winnipeg but was unable to compete in the Canadian tri-service volleyball championships.

Retires

Captain F. G. Daniels of Edmonton retired from the Canadian Army last month after 24 years service. He was with Headquarters Western Command in Edmonton for the past six years.

Born and educated in Montreal, Capt. Daniels went overseas with the Three Rivers Regiment in 1941 and served in England and North-west Europe, returning to Canada for release in 1946.

He re-enlisted in 1949 and served in various staff appointments in Ontario and Alberta.

Capt. Daniels held the appointment of Secretary, Western Command Fish and Game Club, was a member of the Griesbach Community Council, and for the past five years has been active in school board matters in the Griesbach community.

Capt. Daniels will be employed as Administrative Assistant in the Registrar's Office, University of Alberta.

THE CASE OF THE MISSING LANDLORD

Sinai Desert, Egypt — Canadian troops have a desert landing strip from a Bedouin sheik, but they here they rent on a yearly basis are having trouble paying the rent.

They have the money — all $2.48 of it — but they can't catch up to the sheik. Meetings have been arranged twice in a two-week period to hand over the fee — one Egyptian pound — but the sheik hasn't shown.

In addition to the annual payment of $2.48 the Canadians are also committed to provide one barrel of water a day to the sheik's tribe. At least the deal calls for a barrel a day, but the Canadian soldiers always throw in a few more for good measure.

The whole business started back in 1960 when the reconnaissance squadron of the Fort Garry Horse needed a patch of level ground from which to fly scouting missions on their role as peace-keepers for the United Nations. The Royal Canadian Air Force provide Otter aircraft for the task and take the troopers winging over the desert wilderness.

Along about this time of the year the business of the pound rent comes up. In the past it has been collected promptly with due ceremony over several cups of tea and clouds of cigarette smoke.

Meanwhile back at the airstrip, the Reconnaissance Squadron of the 8th Canadian Hussars (Princess Louise's) is still flying its desert missions, and the commanding officer, Major Lorne M. Stone, of Vancouver, hopes someone will spot the shy sheik one of these days and pay the rent.
